The Dukes defeated the crippled Indians yesterday, getting their first taste of victory in the series. The score: Albuquerque 6, Tucson 4.

Callan of Tucson caught with a bandaged hand and Brashears first based on a gassy ankle. Nevertheless he was a sharp gun, and noteworthy also is that pitcher Fleischman scored another stroke of revenge on his former and erstwhile unapostolic club.

Governor McDonald was at the game and rooted for New Mexico.

Same teams, same place this afternoon.

Gossip and Dope from Papers in League Cities

Phoenix Republic.
Carl Zemlouch who threw his arm away in the Saturday game is going to captain his hitting ability, joining the Hayden team as an out-fielder.

Phoenix Gazette.
Two fans were ejected from the bleachers during the game by the park cop on orders from Umpire Kane. They were satiating El Paso players. Selecting spectators is a new wrinkle in the Old Pueblo and is big league stuff. It all helps the insects we're getting their money's worth," says the Tucson Star.

This is a warning to local fans.

El Paso Herald.
The lot of the umpires is surely an unhappy one. There isn't a man living whose decisions in a ball game would satisfy both teams. The officers of the Rio Grande league are now trying to satisfy only four clubs, but the two umpires seem to be in bad all around. Neither man is accused of partiality, but each has given decisions which have aroused the ire of the managers. The latest blow came from Jim Brown, who declared that the Tucson club will play no more games where Harry Kane umpires. And it was all because Kane gave a close decision against the Tucson club. If Kane states the facts correctly, and he is borne out to a certain extent by the Tucson newspapermen, his decision was correct. Brown has protested the game and it will be threshed out next week when the Tucson and El Paso teams are here.

Silver City baseball fans are making overtures to the players who were with the Las Cruces club and it is likely that the leaders will send a man up to the mining city today to talk business. The deal may result in the whole team shifting to Silver City and playing independent ball there, as the Silver City club. One thing is certain and that is that Silver City will have about the strongest independent club in the southwest if it grabs the Farmers intact, and the boys all declare there will be no negotiations which might weaken the lineup.

El Paso Times.
Interest in the welfare of the representative teams by all four cities of the circuit is constantly increasing. According to reports received from Phoenix, record crowds are attending the daily games at the Capital City while in Albuquerque the fans are turning out in large numbers and aiding in the support of the club. Local interest in the pennant race is high at present, quite a number of prominent fans having taken out large shares of stock in the company, which will back the Pass City team financially during the entire season. Yesterday afternoon several hundred people witnessed the second game of the series with Phoenix on the Times electric score board at Branch No. 3 and cheered the efforts of the Mackmen.

McMurdo Star.
The break play when McMurdo started to steal home with three on base, three outs and two strikes and McGlynn winding up, has caused more talk about the town than anything since the blowing up of the Lusitania and the state going dry. Many fans claim that Kane was right in his decision, although the weight of opinion is still on the other side. The incident promises to be the main subject of talk for some days to come.

Some outside papers carried garbled accounts of the incident, making it appear as a plain steal to home without the accompanying fact that Tony McGlynn was "in the hole."

BOTH TRAVIS AND ANDERSON PLAY RAGGED GOLF TODAY

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire) June 5.—Walter J. Travis, the veteran golfer, was the Metropolitan golf champion today over the Apawamis course by defeating John O. Anderson, the former Boston golfer in the final round by two up.

Travis' play of 16 men over the eighteen holes was somewhat ragged and rather disappointing to the big gallery. Each made mistakes in driving and putting.

Travis with 52 and Anderson with 51 strokes for the 18 holes left several strokes behind their average for the previous matches of the tournament.

In the second half of the match Travis was 2 up at the turn.
